
United Press International

Six Cubans arrived in New Orleans yesterday after fleeing from their country in a 32-foot fishing boat, but all of the crewman were not happy to be in the United States. The three men at left hold on high an American flag while two of their fellow crewmen show their displeasure at being here by displaying a Cuban flag. Story on Page A9.

Post 10/1/65